Greetings and Introduction

Hi and Greetings from www.questpond.com management team. Please give us two minutes to introduce ourselves and how we can benefit you from the same. We are four years old “IT job interview questions and answers” data generation Company. Now what does that mean?. We help job seekers to prepare for IT interviews by making them aware of technical questions asked during interview from our exclusive book series Interview question series. With around 3 lakh IT JOB seeker readers around India annually we are now seeking small and medium JOB consultant as our partners. You can have a look at our IT questions and answers coverage by clicking on <http://www.questpond.com>.

So what do we expect from our partners

First thing we do not expect MONEY from our partners in any way. We are expecting our partners to do referral business for us and we in turn do for them. What does that actually mean?. As said before we have annually a huge database of IT job seeker readers who are seeking for jobs in IT field. We will advertise your email, contact and requirement to them. You will be contacted with email subject reference from Questpond. In turn you need to advertise our Interview question PDF's in your website.

So you get RESUMES and we get our Book sales.....Simple...

How do I verify your reader base?

As said before we have books published for IT interview preparation and also a website which has the PDF's which an IT interview resource can use to prepare for IT interviews. Below are our different sources from which IT job seekers contact us:-

Source	Number of readers Annually	Validate
Interview question book Sales Hard copy	30000	We have BpB as our publisher you can email to bpb@bol.net.in for clarifications.
From our website http://www.questpond.com	1 lakh readers	We can email you the stat counter report. www.statcounter is an independent web site which maintains hits to websites.
Off line PDF's	70,000	This can not be validated in a straight forward fashion. We have given sample PDF's of interview question and answers to our readers, which are read through out the world continuously.
